

Tips for Supporting Your Beginning Reader

Hear Your Reader: New readers need to read aloud, so they hear themselves and you can hear when to offer them help.

Stop and Wait: Don't automatically tell your child the word they are stuck on. Wait five seconds to allow your reader a moment to try to figure the word out on their own.

Lots of Books: Make sure your reader has access to lots of great books. You can do this by taking them to the library. There the librarians can help you find the perfect book to meet your child's needs.

Read Together: Make sure to continue to read together every day. Take turns reading aloud.
